

Senior Thesis Fellowships for Research in European Archives

All History Majors (CC, Barnard, GS) in their junior year writing a senior thesis are eligible for a fellowship for $4,500 to conduct four- to six-weeks of research in European archives this summer. The fellowship funds research in European archives, but projects do not have to be about Europe per se. In the past, we have funded students working on South East Asia, the Caribbean, and Africa as well as Europe. In addition, the fellowship includes a three-day workshop at the Columbia Global Center in Paris (July 10 – 12) with Columbia Professors Susan Pedersen and Charly Coleman, as well as others. All students – regardless of eligibility – are invited to participate in the following workshops held on campus this spring. Interested students should contact Noelle Turtur (nt2434@columbia.edu).

Spring 2017 Workshop Schedule

Wednesday Feb. 1 – Information Session at 6:00pm in Fay 411

Find out more about the fellowship, European Archives, and campus resources with Prof. Pedersen, Prof. Coleman, research librarian John Tofanelli, and past fellowship recipients.

Tuesday Feb. 28 – How to Write a Research Prospectus at 6:00pm in Fay 411

Learn how to draft a research prospectus with graduate assistant Noelle Turtur.

Friday Mar. 24 – Applications Due to nt2434@columbia.edu.